

MOONSHINERS ARRESTED

S. A. Stigall and son, who were engaged in distilling white lightning near Rockport, were captured by Messrs. O'Neal and Davis, prohibition agents from Jackson, on Tuesday afternoon. The officers reached Camden on No. 5 Tuesday morning, and were met by Sheriff Barnes, who went with them.

The two men were caught "red handed" and surrendered at once. About 200 gallons of mash was destroyed, and the copper worm carried away by the officers was said to be the best of its kind, costing about $200. They were operating with a 60-gallon oil barrel.

The Stigalls came from East Tennessee last June, and claimed to be fishermen. Their still was located about a fourth of a mile south of Rockport and within 60 yards of Tennessee River. They told the officers they began operations in January. The prisoners were confined in jail here Tuesday night and taken to Jackson on No. 4 Wednesday.

THE REAL STUFF.

We learn that the negro string band which entertained the crowd in the court yard here Saturday afternoon met with a sad mishap at Waverly that night. It is said they came in contact with some Humphreys County "home brew," and now there is one dead negro and another thought to be dying.

MRS. S. H. HALL DIED SUNDAY

Mrs. Eliza Jane Hall, aged 77, wife of S. H. Hall, died Sunday night as the result of a recent attack of paralysis. The funeral services were held at the family home in South Camden Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. C. A. Coleman. Burial followed at Camden Cemetery, and was attended by a large concourse of people.

Mrs. Hall was formerly married to William Wygul. Two children were born of this union. Following the death of Mr. Wygul, she was married to S. H. Hall on October 22, 1872, and to this union were added two children. She professed faith in Christ in early girlhood, joined the M. E. Church at Sugar Creek and her life was made up of Christian acts and charitable deeds.

Poet nor artist has never been able to portray the grave in colors of brightness and beauty. Bryant, in the "Hymn of Death," could not make the subject beautiful, and yet the cemetery with its marble and its dead, the chair that has no occupant, the fancied echo of the silent voice and the vacant place in home, church and social life are mellowing and uplifting in their influence.

They bring the best of human nature into the fullness of vigor, crowding back the selfishness and imperiousness of men and impressing them with the duty of recognition of the value of friendship.

It is the gloom of the cemetery that reveals to us more clearly the beauty of life. It is the broken ties at the grave that prompts us to a fuller appreciation of the tenderness of the ties that are not broken. And so while we mourn the loss of our dead we may rejoice that there is no cloud so dark that there is no light behind it, no sorrow so poignant that there is not a balm for the wound it inflicts.

KIND WORDS FOR A CAMDEN MERCHANT

A. V. Bowles of Camden, one of the most prominent and successful merchants west of the Tennessee River, was in the Nashville market last week buying merchandise for immediate needs.

Mr. Bowles is one of the most popular and best-known merchants who visits the local market, and his many friends here are always glad to see him. He reports business steadily improving and is holding up remarkably well. Mr. Bowles is an enthusiastic reader of the Periscope, and says its about the first thing he looks for when he receives the Banner on Sunday.

On Tuesday last Mr. Bowles had the honor to be reelected Mayor of Camden. He has just rounded out his first term as Mayor, his administration being noted for many progressive and constructive accomplishments—Nashville Banner, April 24.

AGED WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Funeral services of Mrs. M. E. Churchville, aged 85, who died at her home near Cowell's Chapel April 21, were held at the chapel Friday, conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. A. Coleman.

Mrs. Churchville was born December 14, 1835. She was married to Hosea B. Bridges September 8, 1854, with whom she lived happily until his death, July 22, 1903. Ten children were born of this union, four of whom survive—Mrs. John Cowell, Mrs. L. T. Thompson of Carbondale, Ill., and R. L. Bridges of Louisville, Ky.

She was married to J. R. Churchville August 11, 1914, with whom she was living at the time of her death. Mrs. Churchville was a member of the M. E. Church, South, and had been a devoted church worker since young girlhood, such work being the principal purpose of her life. She was kind to the sick; it was never too cold or the night too dark for her to succor those who were ill or in distress and needed attention.

Mrs. Churchville lived in an age that is history to the most of us today. She helped to cook for the men engaged in building the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway, which passes near her home; saw the first train that ran through the county—an engine and two small box cars. She saw mail carted from place to place by the stage coach, and could recall many of the important events of State and Nation which antedated the civil war.

May time bring its resignation, and may the shores of eternity that receives her soul surround it with everlasting sunshine and beautiful flowers.

COMING DOWN!

Paradise, Business Raven's Office, April 29, 1921.—Dobson dear: Here are the latest facts and figures, and if you wish you can still sell 9c canned fish; your second dash should be 15c for beef hash; the third crash should be 35c can peaches with a dime-slash.

Down goes meat, meal and lard; its hard on you and hurts, don't it, pard? Tobacco and snuff are the staple stuff; for 5c the woman can dip and dip, and for 10c the man can puff, puff, puff!

10c sugar to make coffee sweet,

94c to make your "boeze." Keep both in stock for you to choose.

Keep in line up to time and do not be confused—90c hay to feed your black and bay; $1.99 and up sweet feed to make 'em game and gay. A dandy rubber tire buggy, worth the money—just the thing to get you a "honey!" Headquarters for shorts, bran and Tip Top flour; everything in your store marked to the latest hour. Go friend, come foe; Dobson's is the place to leave your "dough."

Business Raven,
